

Federico Stubbe Jr. is President of PRISA Group, a family-owned developer and builder of residential, resort, hospitality, gaming and entertainment projects in Puerto Rico and Florida. PRISA is developer, builder and partner in the $1.5 billion, 1,400-acre Dorado Beach Resort. During the last four years, the firm has completed close to $1 billion in tourism-related projects on time and on budget, including the $340 million Dorado Beach, A Ritz-Carlton Reserve and Residences, three Hyatt Place hotels, one Hyatt House hotel, and two casinos. PRISA's Hyatt portfolio resulted in it being named Hyatt's 2014 Americas' Developer of the Year. In addition, the firm has six residential projects in various stages of construction.

Mr. Stubbe recently completed three Marriott select service hotels in Orlando and Tampa, Florida, An Element by Westin is close to opening in Orlando. In addition, PRISA is also developing El Distrito San Juan, a $175 million state-of-the-art urban entertainment district incorporating a 177-room Aloft hotel, a 6,000-spectator performance hall, cinemas, nightclub, rum distillery, zip line, restaurants and bars, among other offerings. El Distrito is currently in construction and scheduled to open Spring 2020.

PRISA recently broke ground on Dorado Beach Health, a $110 million, 107-bed health facility in collaboration with Johns Hopkins Medicine, scheduled to open in 2021.

Mr. Stubbe is currently Chairman of the Board of The TASIS School in Dorado, a PPK through 12th grade 900-student private school founded by his parents. He holds a bachelor's degree from Georgetown University, and MBA and Civil Engineering degrees from MIT and its Sloan School of Management.