

Roberto García-Rodríguez is president and chief executive officer of Triple-S Management Corporation. Prior to his appointment in January of 2016, he was the corporation's chief operations officer and CEO-elect.

From 2008 to 2013, García served as vice president, general counsel and corporate secretary at Triple-S. He was vice president of corporate, legal and regulatory affairs at Puerto Rico Telephone Company (PRT) from 2007 to 2008, and vice president of legal and regulatory affairs at PRT from 2004 to 2007.

He started his career in 1993 as the first executive director of Proyecto Península de Cantera, a comprehensive, community based development initiative in San Juan, Puerto Rico. García obtained a Bachelor of Arts at Harvard University, an M.B.A. at the Stanford Graduate School of Business, and a Juris Doctor at Stanford Law School. He also completed graduate studies in international relations and diplomacy at the School of Diplomacy of Spain's Ministry of Foreign Affairs and the Advanced Management Program at Harvard Business School. García is a leadership fellow of the National Association of Corporate Directors and a member of the Puerto Rico Bar Association. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the Blue Cross Blue Shield Association and chair of the American Cancer Society CEOs Against Cancer Puerto Rico Chapter.