Sergio Marxuach

Policy Director and General Counsel

Sergio M. Marxuach is the Director for Policy Development at the Center for the New Economy. Prior to joining the Center, Mr. Marxuach served as Deputy Secretary of Commerce and Economic Development for the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, under the direction of Milton Segarra. Previous to his service as Deputy Secretary, Mr. Marxuach worked as Special Assistant to Ms. Melba Acosta, former executive director of the Commonwealth's Office of Management and Budget.

Before joining the Commonwealth government, he was an associate for five years in the New York City law firm of Curtis, Mallet-Prevost, Colt & Mosle LLP, where he worked mostly in Latin American and international corporate matters, structuring cross-border capital market transactions, and arranging vendor financing and syndicated credit facilities for U.S. multinational firms.

Mr. Marxuach has a B.A. in Economics and Political Science from Yale University, where he was awarded the Henry Edwards Ellsworth Prize for his Senior Essay. He also has a Juris Doctor degree from the Georgetown University Law Center and a Master of Science in Foreign Service from the Graduate School of Foreign Service at Georgetown University.
