

EDUARDO BALLORI

CEO

Since 2009, Eduardo has implemented numerous IT projects for the government of Puerto Rico, successfully balancing both public and private interests to bring these projects to fruition.

Currently, Eduardo serves as Intervice's Chief Executive Officer with a focus in Business Development and Corporate Strategy.

Eduardo joined Intervice in June 2015 after working for 2 years for UBS Private Bank in New York serving High Net Worth and Ultra High Net Worth individuals within Latin America and the Caribbean. Previously, as Assistant Secretary of State for the Department of State of Puerto Rico, Eduardo was one of the pioneers within the public service space to recognize and effectively implement IT infrastructure projects designed to improve the lives of the 500,000 professionals he served as head of the Department of State's Examination Board Office.

Eduardo graduated from Fordham Law School and is barred in the state of New York. He holds a bachelor's degree from Columbia University.