GLOBAL DISASTER SOLUTIONS

Alberto Bachman is Vice President of Cotton International Inc, a leading disaster recovery company with presence in North America and International. Since joining Cotton International in 2017, he has been responsible for establishing the Puerto Rico office as a hub in the Caribbean, growing the client roster in the region and building strong customer relations. As VP, his focus lies on establishing Cotton as the leading disaster recovery company in the Caribbean. In just 5 years, Cotton International Puerto Rico has successfully led the industry, providing multiple services to help re establish their client’s business operations following natural or manmade disasters.

Mr. Bachman has extensive experience dealing with complex catastrophic events like Hurricanes Irma and Maria in 2017 in Puerto Rico and Hurricane Dorian in the Bahamas in 2019. He is an expert in risk management, complex losses, and multimillion dollar insurance claims with over 10 years of experience in the insurance industry. This allows him to seamlessly guide clients through the claims process to reduce business interruption. Cotton’s client portfolio throughout the Caribbean includes companies such as Hilton Worldwide, Sandals Resorts International, Simon Property Group, Costco, and Walmart.

Alberto is a San Juan native; he enjoys spending time with family, playing golf and fishing.
