

Mr. José Samuel Rosado, MHA, FACHE. With over 16 years of experience, Mr. Rosado had the opportunity to impact different operational, financial, and administrative areas in different healthcare organizations. As an experienced healthcare executive, he has a strong background in managing key operational phases in complex for profit, academic, and non-profit hospitals. Also, he has experience in operations, administration, financial management, medical education programs, budgeting, revenue cycle, strategic planning, construction project management and design, electronic health record implementation, business development, physician's alignment, among other areas of expertise. His leadership skills had a consistent impact in organizational team performance and response capacity through empowerment, training, and engagement, resulting in high-impact results. Before serving as the Executive Director of the Bayamón Medical Center and the Puerto Rico Women and Children's Hospital, Mr. Rosado serve as the Executive Director of Manatí Medical Center in Manatí.

Last achieved degree:

With the desire to continue developing he earned a master's degree in Health Services Administration (MHA) from the University of Puerto Rico Medical Science Campus. He's a Licensed Health Services Administrator and a Fellow of the American College of Healthcare Executives (FACHE).