

Hari Sabnani, President & CEO – Alivia Health Puerto Rico

Hari Sabnani is a Puerto Rican born in Humacao. Currently, he is the President & CEO of Alivia Health Network in Puerto Rico. Alivia Health Network is the biggest local pharmacy operations in Puerto Rico, with 610 employees and processing over 1.5 million prescriptions, servicing 160,000+ patients annually with over $580 million in revenue in 2022, recognized by the Caribbean Business as one of the top 15 biggest local business in 2022. Alivia Health is Puerto Rican company committed to providing the best quality patient care services, Alivia's services have become a vital part of the effective medicine distribution and dispensing for the island's residents, making Alivia the strongest pharmacy network on the island. Farmacias Plaza is the main locally owned network of community pharmacies, and Alivia Specialty Pharmacy is the #1 provider of specialty oncology products and other specialty drugs, which offers home IV infusion and biological drugs delivery services throughout the island. Alivia Home Delivery is an innovative closed pharmacy that serves home and office delivery programs of prescription drugs and OTC products in the entire island. Last, Alivia Hub is the only pharmaceutical hub in Puerto Rico that implements patient management and compliance and adherence programs for specialized drugs. In October 2021, he was recognized by the Caribbean Business Power 100 as a one of the Top 100 Executive in Puerto Rico.

Hari Sabnani was the General Manager at Quest Diagnostics for Puerto Rico and Latin America, responsible for the operations of the biggest reference lab and clinical laboratories network in the Caribbean. He was the Vice President of Sales and Marketing at Cardinal Health Puerto Rico, responsible for the Sales, Marketing, Account Management and Customer Service areas for the business segments of Pharmacy, National Pharmacy Chains Accounts, Hospitals, Government Accounts, Laboratory and Ambulatory/Alternate Care business for Puerto Rico, USVI and Latin America. Prior to his time with Quest Diagnostics and Cardinal Health, Hari has accrued over 16 years of experience in the pharmaceutical and medical devices distribution industries in Puerto Rico, the Caribbean and Latin America Region. He has held leadership positions in various multinational healthcare companies. He was Area Business Director of Sales at Wyeth/Pfizer Puerto Rico, Inc. pharmaceutical segment, General Manager for the Ethicon franchise of Johnson & Johnson Medical, Inc. for the Caribbean and Central America and held various leadership positions at Eli Lilly & Co., including Director of Corporate Affairs and Managed Care. He is a Certified Public Accountant and graduated from the University of Puerto Rico (UPR), Río Piedras with a major in Accounting and Finance. In September 2011, Hari was recognized by the Caribbean Business "40 under 40" special annual report that highlight young executives who have made significant contributions to PR economic progress. In March 2014, he was recognized with the Executive of the Year in the Service Sector award by the Puerto Rico Manufacturers Association/Puerto Rico Industrial Sector Association (PRMA).