Global Reinsurer Capital

Reduced asset prices erode reported book values

- Aon estimates that global reinsurer capital declined by 15%, or $100bn, to $575bn over the 12 months to December 31, 2022.
- Traditional equity fell by 17% to $482bn, principally driven by substantial unrealized losses on investment portfolios.
- Alternative capital was down by 3% to $93bn; deployable capacity was somewhat lower, impacting the retro market in particular.
